

Biometrics

Fieldware have been involved in a number of internationally significant projects involving biometrics since 2002, including face recognition and fingerprint recognition.

Face Recognition

We have particular experience with Cognitec's FaceVACs suite of products, having implemented systems for both verification (one-to-one matching) and identification (one-to-many matching) and card management workflows.

Finger Prints

We have been involved in a number of national and international projects.

Access Control

Fieldware have experience in developing real world solutions for kiosk and portal access control using face and vascular recognition technologies.
